KLECHA & CO. STRENGTHENS ITS TECH EQUITY RESEARCH DIVISION WITH LORNE DANIEL

London, 21st November 2018 - Klecha & Co. – the Technology-specialized investment bank – announces the strengthening of its Equity Research Division, with Lorne Daniel.

Based in London, the Division provides listed pan-European Technology & Media companies with the tools to interact effectively with institutional investors. This is done through company and sector analysis in the context of global industry trends.

With an established reputation as a leading analyst in UK's Tech & Media sectors, Lorne joins Klecha & Co.'s team as a Director of Equity Research. Over the last 6 years, Lorne was consistently ranked among the leading Equity Analysts in the Technology sector in Institutional Investor surveys.

After obtaining an economics degree at the University of London, Lorne started his career as a fund manager with JM Finn & Co. He spent the last seven years as a Research Director with FinnCap where he helped to build AIM's leading research team in the technology sector over the last five years with an unrivalled franchise. Providing research coverage for numerous fund raisings and IPOs as well as financial reports, in both the 2017 and 2018 rankings, Lorne has been the second most read analyst across the whole London market on the highly-rated Research Tree equity research platform.

Stephane Klecha, Klecha & Co.'s Managing Partner, welcomed Lorne stating: 'Lorne brings a wealth of high-level contacts in the UK-listed tech sector. We are looking forward to work alongside new client in the UK and to support them in their international expansion plans.'

Klecha & Co.

Klecha & Co. is the reference investment bank for the Tech sector at international level. Founded in 2009, Klecha & Co. operates through its offices in Milan, London and New York. Thanks to its consolidated relations with world leading operators in the sector, and to the experience gained by its team of professionals in relevant cross border operations, Klecha & Co. offers its clients a global and specialized approach.

Klecha & Co. shares with its clients the belief that entrepreneurial spirit and innovation are at the center of economic development and guides them through the design of development strategies. On an operational level, it offers support from the capital raise to the realization of growth plans, through to the integration activities following the M&A operations.
